When we succeed with this work of bringing about an inner harmony, which defines a personality, we can talk of grace. –Dora M. Kalff

Frequently Asked Questions

Do I have to attend all modules?

To secure the cohesiveness of the group we ask that you make a commitment to at least one year of the program at a time. If you submit the documentation that you have completed 18 hours of STA approved introductory coursework you may be exempt from the first module. Each teacher has a different perspective and provides new information, case material and insight. However, if you are an experienced Sandplay therapist and you would like additional training in a specific area, you may enroll in individual weekends.

What will be the hours of each module?

Each module will be 16 hours starting Friday at 6 P.M. and ending Sunday at 12 noon. The exception to this will be the introductory module in April, which will be 18 hours and will start Friday at 3 P.M.

What if I have to cancel? Will my fees be refunded?

The full tuition is due one month before the start of the weekend or the year (if you are paying for the full year). If you cancel with less than one months written notice, you will receive a 50% refund. With greater than one months notice, you will receive everything except your deposit back.

There aren't any certified members where I live. How do I begin my personal process or get consultation hours?

Individual hours for process or consultation can be coordinated in St. Paul with prior arrangements. Check the appropriate box on the registration form if you need help with this.

May I bring case material for consultation?

You may do so if you prearrange consultation with someone ahead of time.
